PART D: Additional Security Scrutiny

As a C-TPAT (Customs-Trade Partnership Against Terrorism) certified highway carrier, JBF Express, Inc. is ultimately responsible for all cargo loaded aboard our trucks, specifically that of security. JBF Express, Inc. is committed to ensuring the security and integrity of all of the freight loaded aboard our trucks. To do so it is imperative that JBF Express, Inc. is satisfied that certain minimum security standards are adhered to by all of its business partners and/or customers. JBF Express, Inc. is required to ask specific security questions and expects minimum security policies and procedures will be adhered to as follows:

1. All paperwork and documents (bills of lading, manifests, commercial invoices, certificates of origin, etc.) must be complete, legible, accurate, and protected against the exchange of information, loss of information, or introduction of erroneous information.
2. JBF Express, Inc. must receive all necessary documents at our office for review and for submission to custom brokerages, US Customs (CBP) and/or Canada Customs prior to the pickup of freight by our drivers. The said documents and cargo must pass the following scrutiny, as well as any additional scrutiny that is deemed necessary by JBF Express, Inc.
 - A. Are the documents suspicious for a potential terrorist threat?
 - B. Is the cargo suspicious for a potential terrorist threat?
 - C. Does the shipment originate from an unusual location, region, or country of origin?
 - D. Is the shipment destined for an unusual location, region, or country of origin?
 - E. Was the shipment paid for by cash or certified?
 - F. Are there any unusual or suspicious routing methods involving the shipment?
 - G. Are there any unusual shipping and/or receiving methods involving the shipment?
 - H. Do the documents provide vague, generalized, poor and/or misleading information?

If the answer to any of these questions is yes, the suspicious activity will be reported to the nearest US Customs (CBP) office and/or Canada Customs office.

3. Is cargo stored in a location which is to be constantly locked and/or monitored by an authorized and appropriate personnel until the cargo is picked up by JBF Express, Inc? If not action must be taken.
4. Are all shipping documents and paperwork stored in a location which is constantly locked and/or monitored by authorized and appropriate personnel until the time possession is turned over to JBF Express, Inc? If not action must be taken.
5. Cargo and documents are only to be tendered to/received from individuals who present valid JBF Express, Inc. company issued photo identification.
